"We are excited to bring another Country music legend to Arizona," said Sheila Anderson, Spectra Marketing Manager for the Findlay Toyota Center. "Clint and his wife will be performing their hits and some great Christmas music for our December 19th show."

It has been three decades since the release of Clint Black's groundbreaking debut album, Killin' Time. The genre-altering record cemented the Country music icon as one of the truest traditionalists in the game and his widespread influence can still be felt in the works of artists today. Now, the seemingly unstoppable legend is heading out on tour with Lisa Hartman Black.

Having earned 22 #1 career singles, nearly two dozen gold and platinum awards (U.S. and Canada), a Grammy Award, numerous CMA, ACM, and American Music Awards, Clint Black has had one of the most storied careers in modern music. The Houston-raised musician has certainly come a long way from the Texas nightclub circuit where he first began. In his latest effort, Out of Sane, Clint Black continues to hold firm in making great music that doesn't fit a mold or conform to current popularity.

Clint has been busy this last year getting creative during the COVID music hiatus. He started Clint Black Cowboy Coffee and is the host of a new interview-based television show on the Opry's Circle Network. Talking in Circles with Clint Black will feature conversations with Sara Evans, Darius Rucker, Steve Wariner, Trace Adkins, Travis Tritt, Keb' Mo, John Rich, and more. For more about Clint Black and his new ventures, check out his official website, clintblack.com.
